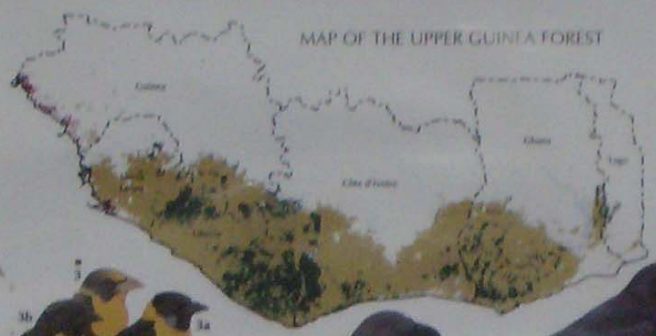
THREATENED BIRDS OF THE UPPER GUINEA REGION

Les oiseaux menacées de la Haute Guinée

BirdLife INTERNATIONAL
Together for birds and people



Black-capped Rufous Warbler NT
Brown-cheeked Hornbill NT
Gola Malimbe EN
Lagden's Bush-shrike NT
Copper-tailed Glossy Starling NT
Harlequin Duck NT
Yellow-throated Olive Greenbul VU
Rufous Fishing-owl EN
Sierra Leone Prinia VU
Liberian Greenbul CR
Rufous-winged Illadopsis NT
Yellow-casqued Hornbill NT
Western Wattled Cuckoo-shrike VU
White-necked Picathartes VU
Nimba Flycatcher VU
White-headed Guineafowl VU
African Mourning Dove NT
Stanley's Bustard NT
Lesser Kestrel NT
Osprey VU
Lappet-faced Vulture NT
Great Snipe NT
Black Crowned-crane NT
Pallid Harrier VU
Lesser Flamingo NT

Key

- adult
- juvenile
- immature
- juvenile male
- immature female
- adult (sex) ♂
- adult (female) ♀
- adult breeding
- adult non breeding
- Non Focal Bird
- Length

THREAT STATUS IN ORDER OF SEVERITY

- CR – CRITICAL
- EN – ENDANGERED
- VU – VULNERABLE
- NT – NEAR THREATENED

COUNTRY DISTRIBUTION CODE

- CI – Côte d'Ivoire
- GH – Ghana
- GU – Guinea
- LI – Liberia
- SL – Sierra Leone

Map © Peter Hails based on the Soil, Ecological Zone and Land Cover Maps of West Africa, 1997

ILLUSTRATIONS: Nik Borrow and Ron Demblon, Birds of Western Africa, 1987

• Illustrations are not to scale

COUNTRY DISTRIBUTION

For further information please contact:
The West Africa Sub-Regional Coordinator
BirdLife International
c/o Ghana Wildlife Society
P. O. Box 13252, Accra. Tel: +233 21 663357
E-mail: gwsbirds@africaonline.com.gh

DARWIN INITIATIVE

• Main causes of threat are, Conversion of forest and wetlands for infrastructural development, Unsustainable harvesting, Poor Mining of natural resources and Poor Agricultural practices.

SOS

BirdLife International partners in the UGF Region